Bio-Energetic Healer

NEWSLETTER * August – September, 2012

ZE'EV KOLMAN'S MESSAGE

HAPPY LABOR DAY!! The United States Federal Holiday of Labor Day signifies many things to us. We celebrate the many contributions of workers. The day is often regarded as a day of rest, parades and parties, celebrated with picnics, fireworks, and public art events. It is regarded to be the symbolic end of the summer. In American sports, this day marks the beginning of both the national and college football seasons. And, for most school districts that began summer vacation in early June, the new school year starts shortly after this day, thus giving families with school-age children a last chance to travel before school begins.

Let's integrate with positive energy on this holiday to create a better future for our country, and peace for all the world!

Distance Healing

What happens during distance healing? When the body is at rest, the chakras open up, allowing the frequency of healing energy sent from my being to be transferred to the body. Distance healing is thus the transmission of healing energy performed when one is asleep or resting.

Distance healing is recommended for people who are far away, or unable to travel.

Distance healing is very strong, like a private session. In some cases, it is even more effective because the body is in a resting state.

Most people feel some sort of sensation, and wake up when the energy touches them. Some experience no physical sensation whatsoever. If they might awaken, I ask them to be in a meditative state. The remaining people sleep more deeply.

I try my best to help those in need. Some people are more open to accepting the energy, and some people less. It depends on the possibility from the body to accept the healing energy.

The following lists what is required for distance healing:

1. photograph;
2. full address;
3. telephone number;
4. date of birth;
5. direction of your head when you sleep at night (will it be pointing to the north, south, east or west); and
6. the conditions you would want to be focused on.

Heidi Rain, of Spirit of Change Magazine, praises The Secret of Healing: The Healing Powers of Ze'ev Kolman, A True Story by Hans Holzer, Ph.D.

Dr. Hans Holzer, Ph.D., internationally recognized authority on the paranormal and author of 119 books, has extensively researched and validated the work of Ze'ev Kolman, a bioenergetic healer renowned for the effectiveness of his treatments throughout the United States, Japan, Poland, England and his homeland, Israel. Alternating its narrative between Kolman's self-reports of life as a healer and Holzer's marvelous storytelling, The Secret of Healing exerts an almost hypnotic effect on the reader. One becomes immersed in the story and starts to feel an inexplicable calmness and positivity emanating from within.

The story, simple if unusual enough, is about an Israeli citizen living a rather uneventful life until one night during active reserve duty in the Sinai. When Ze'ev follows an urge to climb a mountain alone, he meets up with a cloud and some short creatures. He later recalls only waking up, feeling quite good, unable to account to his fellow soldiers for the long hours during which he'd been missing. When Ze'ev unwittingly "electrifies" and knocks over one of his compatriots upon extending his hand, it is discovered that his very touch heals another's body lesions, cures headaches, etc. According to Holzer, "whatever energy field the extraterrestrials placed around Ze'ev, it changed his bioenergetic potential." In the words of Ze'ev, "I was given the power of healing."

More than just another UFO miracle story, however, The Secret of Healing involves Ze'ev's process of becoming a full-time scientifically valid bioenergetic healer, integrating this gift into his life. His method of working with clients is detailed, from the realization of clients in order to read, undistorted, their auras, to his "cleansing of the chakras and then refilling of them with renewed energy to permit the flow of correct energy." The balance of The Secret of Healing documents Ze'ev's many cures of cancers, mental problems, hearing difficulties and even a case of multiple sclerosis. The congratulatory letters and medical documentation of such cases seem unnecessary.

Placing Ze'ev among the greatest healers of our times, Holzer explains the origins of his powers as an "experiment in terrestrial medicine jumpstarted by extraterrestrial biotechnology." Whatever the explanation, there is little about this extraordinary human being that isn't straightforward and good. Perhaps that's what makes Ze'ev's tale so extraordinary, his work so miraculous, and The Secret of Healing such an engrossing, inspiring and heart-warming good read.
