THIS MONTH'S MESSAGE FROM ZE'EV

Summer has arrived once again with the cycle of earth's path around the sun. I am thankful for the return of longer days, giving us more light in our lives. Whatever deep, dark negative energy may have appeared in winter can now be cleared by the return of the sun's higher output of energy. With more energy, we have the possibility to grow and transform. For example, 70% of our body's need for vitamin D comes from direct exposure to sunlight. The mind can also benefit from the summer sunshine.

As we celebrate the arrival of summer warmth, let's remember that this the month for Father's Day. Fathers are very important to families. I am also a Father, and what that means to me is to be the best father that I can be. Fathers love their children and embrace them regardless of circumstances.

Everyone wants to be loved by a father figure in their lives. Try to live a life that will be an example for your children. Talk to them, and listen. Everyone has something to say, whether it seems important or not. You don't have to have a biological father to feel this. A father can be any male figure in your life whom you respect like a father. I extend my fatherhood to my clients whom I pray and meditate for each day. Fathers: you mean more to your children than you can imagine. Don't ever forget that.

To all my clients who are fathers, or who have fathers, I wish you good health, happiness and success in all that you do. I will keep you in my prayers and meditation. I will send you energy on Father's Day. Happy Father's Day from Ze'ev Kolman!

TESTIMONIALS

I am a 34-year-old female who has been suffering with back problems and nerve damage for 6 years. Some of the symptoms that I had been experiencing were severe pain and numbness in the leg and foot. Additionally, 2 years ago I had been diagnosed with shingles leading to post herpetic neuralgia.

I have had three major back surgeries; have seen many, many doctors and specialists, and nothing to date has been able to rid me of my pain or help my numbness. Also since my last surgery 2 years ago, I have been using a cane to walk.

I was fortunate enough to hear about Ze'ev and thought that after all I had been through and after trying almost everything—it was worth taking a trip from Montreal to New York to meet with him. I had nothing to lose. After only one session, I was truly amazed!

Ze'ev helped me so that after the healing session I was, for the first time in 2 years, able to walk without the use of a cane. It was the first time in 6 years that the strong walk I used to have came back and a large amount of my pain disappeared.

Ze'ev Kolman is truly a gift to humankind. What a blessing. Thank you Ze'ev for not only improving my health but also for restoring my hope and for providing me with the opportunity to put my life back together. —S.H.

A good friend whose insight I trust, told me about Ze'ev Kolman and his work. I was skeptical, and she told me she was too, at first. She saw Ze'ev herself and brought a mutual friend with advanced brain cancer to him. She felt the results were very good for both of them.

"Considering the way things were with me, why not give it a try?" she asked.

The way things were with me was multiple myeloma, a bone cancer, and amyloidosis, a rare condition where protein is overproduced and clogs up vital organs. I had experienced a very bad reaction to a liver biopsy and got a vertebra replacement and spinal fusion of five vertebrae with titanium rods because of bone deterioration caused by the myeloma and amyloidosis. I was a mess, but my spirits were high and my attitude good.

I was willing to see Ze'ev. However, the timing was off. I was set to sign papers and receive an intravenous port in preparation for a bone marrow-stem cell transplant at Johns Hopkins Hospital the next day. Ze'ev could see me later in the week, but I needed to be close to the hospital that week and then admitted for 3 weeks. It seemed that I could not see him.

My wife and I went to Johns Hopkins, signed the papers, got lessons about the port and talked to a doctor. This is when, I think, divine intervention occurred. The doctor, whom we had not seen before, suddenly said he didn't think we were ready for the procedure and he wanted to talk to my doctor and order more tests. We were stunned by the last-minute reversal, but now I could see Ze'ev.

We drove to New York and encountered one of the most honest and unpretentious people we have ever met, and Shelly, his assistant, was friendly, engaging and helpful. My session began and I felt an immediate renewal. Ze'ev perceived, and acknowledged, my basic sound health by reading my aura. He found areas in it where he needed to work and he got busy. After my first session, I felt a light, and a lightness of being. I was refreshed and calmed. I experienced an other-worldliness that was not disengaged from reality—rather it had an awakened clarity and a conscious awareness.

I saw Ze'ev several times over the next months. I had a remote session from Jerusalem! That had special quality to it.

Every time I saw Ze'ev, I felt better after I left his office. I was still waiting for word from the hospital. Ze'ev had his own thoughts about that: "Bone marrow, bone schmarrow. You liff your life and let ze doctors vorry about zhat." It was the best advice I had gotten about all of this.

The months passed and finally Johns Hopkins said I was no longer a candidate for the bone marrow stem cell transplant. They could find no cancer. I was growing bones back. My blood and all other tests were good. "Get a check up every 3-4 months and be happy." This was their expert opinion.

I am doing many complementary therapies, but I think what Ze'ev does is central to my healing and its hopeful outcome. I am not cured of the condition, but it is under control and fading. I owe this to him. I am grateful to have met such a person as Ze'ev Kolman, and I will continue my work with him as I continue to heal—and deal—with what I have been dealt with by the higher worlds of my life and its evolution.

Thank you, Ze'ev.
—Don Bufano, Baltimore, MD

Distance Healing

Distance healing is performed while you sleep or rest. When your body is resting your chakras—your energy centers—open up. This is when Ze'ev can easily transmit electromagnetic energy from his mind into your energy field for the purpose of healing. You only need to know the time for your body to be “tuned into” the same wavelength during the distance healing session.

Ze'ev recommends distance healing for clients who are too far away or are unable to come to the office because of a busy schedule or illness. Distance healing is also very effective. It is just as powerful as a private session. In fact, it can even be stronger because the body is very open to receiving energy while resting.

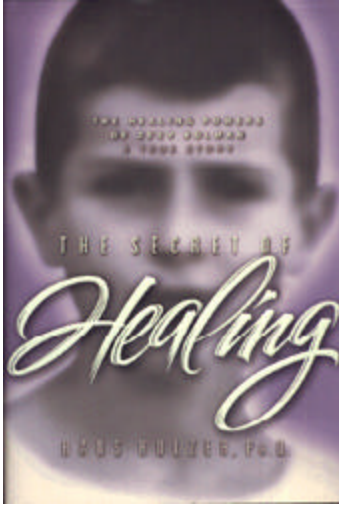

Some clients also experience the tingling sensation during distance healing. Others feel a wave of heat, while others experience no physical presence. The effects are the same. Sometimes a client will awaken during the time of the healing. If this happens to you, stay in bed in a relaxed state.

Distance healing works for many people, but not for everyone. It depends on how long you have had the condition, how open you are to the healing and how well your body receives the energy for healing. There are certain re-
